The Cotton Markets.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

New York, Oct. 17.—The cotton market advanced at the opening 129720 points, Liverpool having advanced 7½ to 10-54ths on futures and 1-32d, on spot cotton. Indications in the cotton belt pointed to cold weather and local sentiment was prepared for the frost threats made later by the government. However, the market here was not very well supplied with orders and prices after the opening call, showed a restriction. New York, Oct. 17.—Some continued beffort was made in professional quarters to advance prices of stocks to day, but the buil forces were considerably depleted and it was evident that the manipulation for the advance in some quarters was taken advantage of to realize in others. The announcement that the People's and the Orden companies had adjusted their differences and had come under one control caused excited trading in People's Gas. Orders were simultaneously executed at quotations running from 25% to 33 on the saile of 3,500 shares at the opening. The price was later run up an extreme 2%. Owing to the large amount of long stock which came out at that level the price fell back and the stock closed with a net gain of only 1½. The reaction in People's Gas and the saileastion of the outside demand for stocks made the later manipulation for the advance ineffectual. Southern Railway preforred and Louisville and Nashville were pushed up 1½ and 1½ and there was eager buying of the Reading stocks on the company's settlement with its miners. Lake Erie and Western had a striking advance of 3 points and Consolidated Cas rose 4½. There were some substantial gains in a number of less prominent stocks, and among them a few net gains were sayed on the day. But the closing showed a reactionary tendency throughout and was heavy with many stocks at the lowest of the day and net losses the rule.

In New York funds continue available for borrowing, but they come mostly from loan and trust empanies, who draw on their deposits with the banks to secure them, thus forcing a shifting of loans.

There was a falling off in the activity of the bond market and lacreased is regularity. Total sales, par value, 31, 500,000.
